

ROSÉ WINES

PODERE PARADISO – Piedinudi

85% Ciliegiolo, with Trebbiano, Ansonica and Vermentino

Producing wines in this style is still relatively uncommon in Italy. Located on Monte Amiata, the estate follows organic vineyard practices and uses minimal sulphur in the cellar.

The climate and landscape evoke southern France. Aromas of lavender, sage, rosemary, juniper, resin and orange blossom lead to a fresh, juicy palate full of charm and vitality.

KREUZBERG – Pinot Noir Rosé – Ahr Germany

100% Pinot Nero

Germany's Ahr Valley produces wonderfully expressive Pinot Noir wines. This rosé is fragrant, lively and full of character, combining red berry flavours with aromatic herbal notes.

Ideal as an aperitif or paired with cured meats and cheeses.

ITALIAN SPARKLING WINES

MIOTTO – Gentil

100% Glera

A joyful and flavourful interpretation of Prosecco that stands apart from many commercial examples.

In my view, Gentil surpasses many of its Valdobbiadene competitors, proving that while origin matters, craftsmanship in the cellar makes the difference.

MIOTTO – Traditional Col Fondo Method

100% Glera

A tribute to the original, naturally cloudy style of Prosecco. Rustic, lively and immensely refreshing, with remarkable longevity.

The lees deposit adds complex aromas reminiscent of bread crust, complementing the grape's fruit character and creating a dry, savoury finish with a pleasantly bitter edge.

We have enjoyed good wine for decades. And, through years of curiosity and exploration, we have accumulated not only experience but also countless bottles from near and far. This small selection is the result of that journey.

Calling it a wine list might sound rather presumptuous. We appreciate originality, but even more the pure pleasure of a wine: the desire to drink it rather than talk about it, and its ability to offer a moment of genuine enjoyment.

Cheers!

RED WINES

DIEGO MORRA – Verduno Pelaverga

100% Pelaverga

A rare indigenous grape variety, skilfully interpreted by Diego Morra. Fresh and vibrant, with spicy aromas of black pepper intertwined with red berry fruit. Delightful not only during the colder months but also slightly cool in warmer weather.

GATTO PIERFRANCESCO – Ruchè di Castagnole Monferrato

100% Ruchè

LA MIRAJA – Ruché di Castagnole Monferrato

100% Ruchè

After tasting wines from around a dozen Ruchè producers, Gatto and Miraja emerged as favourites. Like Pelaverga, Ruchè is an indigenous grape variety, native to Castagnole Monferrato. Gentle spice and pepper notes combine with aromas of violet and geranium. Rich, generous wines with remarkable body that elegantly conceals their alcohol content.

Two different interpretations of a grape once close to extinction and revived thanks to the work of Don Giacomo Cauda. A versatile wine for every season, particularly enjoyable served slightly cool during summer.

ROBERTO BOLLA – Organic Dolcetto di Diano d’Alba – No Added Sulphites

100% Dolcetto

I always enjoy introducing Dolcetto to those who think they do not particularly like it. With the right bottle, it often becomes a pleasant surprise.

Dolcetto can be a magnificent wine when handled with care. Here, organic farming and winemaking without added sulphites make for a bold challenge, brilliantly achieved. Aromas of violet, cherry and blackberry mingle with a subtle smoky note, reflecting the character of old vines.

REVERDITO – Barbera d’Alba Butti

100% Barbera

Barbera is renowned for its bright acidity, making it a perfect companion to food. While both Asti and Alba produce excellent examples, I generally favour the latter for its greater softness and fuller body. Butti is one of the flagship wines of this outstanding producer. Blackberries, spices and fruit preserves emerge on the nose, while oak ageing lends elegance and balance to a rich, satisfying palate.

DIEGO MORRA – Langhe Nebbiolo

100% Nebbiolo

Nebbiolo is one of the world’s most terroir-driven grape varieties. Highly selective in terms of climate and soil, it rarely reaches greatness outside Piedmont. Rather than imposing itself, it expresses its place of origin with remarkable clarity.

Morra crafts a pure and refined Nebbiolo, elegant and precise, with subtle rhubarb notes that beautifully reflect the character of Verduno.

CAVES COOP. DONNAS – Donnas

100% Nebbiolo

With a touch of irony, one could say that global warming has occasionally brought some benefits. Nebbiolo from northern Piedmont and the Valle d’Aosta, once lean and austere, now enjoys ideal ripening conditions and expresses itself with remarkable elegance.

The grapes grown on the steep terraces of the Valle d’Aosta produce a wine of distinction: serious yet highly enjoyable, with subtle nuances appreciated by attentive wine lovers.

WHITE WINES

STELLA DI LEMMEN – Limen – Cinque Terre

40% Vermentino 40% Albarola 20% Bosco

The Paradiso terraces overlook Riomaggiore, where indigenous Cinque Terre grapes are cultivated according to biodynamic principles.

The resulting wine is wonderfully elegant: aromas evoke the sea breeze and wild rosemary flowers. Best enjoyed cool rather than cold, allowing its complexity and nuances to fully emerge.

PORMENOR – Branco – Portugal

Rabigato, Malvasia fina, Códega, Gouveio

Portugal’s Douro Valley has been producing exceptional wines for centuries. Sourced from old vines, this bright and expressive white wine combines refreshing citrus notes, a delicate saline character and hints of Mediterranean herbs.

QUERBACH – 2008 Edition – Rheingau Germany

100% Riesling

Among wine enthusiasts, many consider Riesling to be the world’s finest grape variety. As a devoted Piedmontese wine lover, I can confidently say that Riesling possesses extraordinary character and an unrivalled ability to age.

Nearly twenty years after harvest, this wine reveals exceptional depth, intensity and complexity—an unforgettable expression of mature Riesling.
